*Since 2017, almost 40 pastors and church leaders have participated in this program. They are from Antilles, British Colombia, China, Ethiopia, Ghana, Indonesia, Kenya, Nigeria, Myanmar, Pakistan, Philippines, Surinam and Uganda. They are leading Baptist, Evangelical, Pentecostal, Protestant, Methodist and Moravian churches. COME & JOIN US!

On Saturday 21 of May the Center for Theology of Migration (CThM) is organizing an open day to give information about the postgraduate program for migrant pastors and church leaders.

CThM is a joint initiative of SKIN and the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam. The objective of the Postgraduate program is to train pastors and church leaders to build bridges between their own communities, church and those of the wider Dutch society.

On the open day, extensive information will be given about the program, the admission requirements, the amount of the tuition fees and the possibilities that the participants can have with their diploma. The Postgraduate diploma is issued and recognized by the VU University.

The Open Day will be conducted online and through ZOOM. On request, a Zoom invitation will be sent via email.

Kindly notify your participation by sending an email to:
